

Pleading Perfect
1706 Chester Ave., Suite 360C
Bakersfield, CA 93301
Royal Legal (769-255-3425)

August 5, 2026

[CLIENT NAME REDACTED]
[MAILING ADDRESS REDACTED]
[CITY, STATE, AND ZIP CODE REDACTED]

Re: [CASE NAME REDACTED] request-for-order packet

Dear [CLIENT NAME REDACTED],

We looked through the documents you sent us. A few items appear worth checking before anything is filed or signed, so we listed them below in the order that may be most helpful.

Here are the items that may be worth checking before the documents are filed or signed:

1. The declaration is titled as a responsive declaration to a request for order, while the lead form appears to be the client's own Request for Order. The packet may be clearer if the declaration title matches the role of the document being filed.
2. The declaration asks the court to reopen the matter and addresses default, property, and custody, but the lead Request for Order appears to select custody, visitation, and property only, with the "other orders" area left blank. Please check whether the lead form and declaration describe the same requests.
3. The Request for Order identifies a prior custody and visitation order using one date, while the declaration describes a default-related filing and notice occurring on that same date. Please check whether the date is intended to identify the actual order, the filing, or both, and make the wording consistent.
4. The Request for Order asks for joint legal and physical custody and a weekly 50/50 schedule, while the prior order summary states that one parent currently has sole legal and physical custody and the other has reasonable visitation. These entries may be accurate, but please make sure the requested change is described consistently across the lead form, custody attachment, and declaration.
5. The custody attachment provides a weekly Monday-to-Monday exchange schedule, but the main Request for Order refers generally to an attachment without identifying the attachment number in every related field. Please check the attachment references so the parenting schedule is easy to locate if pages become separated.
6. The holiday schedule appears to list Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in the main holiday table and again in the "Other Holidays" section. Please check whether the duplicate entries are intended and whether they assign the same parent in the same years.
7. The holiday schedule assigns many holidays by even and odd years, but several rows appear to have only one parent listed or no time entered. Please check that each intended holiday has a complete and consistent parent assignment and exchange time.

8. The custody-jurisdiction form lists a prior family case as dismissed and identifies the child's connection to that case. Please check the prior case number, court date, child name, and party connection for consistency with the court record and the current declaration.
9. The declaration states that a text-message exchange occurred on a specific date, but the screenshot appears to show the month and day without a visible year. Please check whether the exhibit should include a clearer date reference or another identifying caption.
10. The declaration refers to two property deeds and two sets of bank statements as separate exhibits. The exhibits appear present, but the bank statements contain full account identifiers, transaction details, and balances. Please check with the filer, court clerk, or a licensed attorney before public filing or service to determine whether any unnecessary financial information should be redacted from public copies.
11. One property exhibit concerns the residence identified in the current request, while another concerns a different property described in the declaration as the parties' former residence. Please check that each deed is labeled with the correct exhibit number and that the declaration's property description matches the corresponding deed.
12. The declaration states that the current residence is titled only in the client's name and that the other party signed a transfer deed. The attached deed and supporting bank statements may support that statement, but please check that the property address, parcel information, and exhibit labels are consistent on every referenced page.
13. The school attendance exhibit uses the child's full name, birth date, grade, and school information. Please check whether all of that identifying information is necessary in the filed public copy and whether the exhibit label is securely attached to the school letter.
14. The Request for Order and declaration appear signed and dated, but several form fields remain blank for court use or hearing information. Please make sure only court-completion fields remain blank and that no client-completed date, signature, attachment number, or requested-order field was unintentionally omitted.

Pleading Perfect is happy to help you make these corrections, or you may make the corrections yourself. We can also efile the documents for you, or you may efile them directly at EFileSystem.com. Please call us at Royal Legal (769-255-3425) if you would like our help.

Sincerely,

Pamela Perez
Pleading Perfect

P.S. I thought a checklist might help you, so I've added one at no extra charge.

[CASE NAME REDACTED] - Checklist

- ☐ Make the declaration title match the document's role in the packet.
- ☐ Make the lead form and declaration describe the same requests.
- ☐ Confirm what event the repeated prior-order date is intended to identify.
- ☐ Make the requested custody change consistent across the lead form, attachment, and declaration.
- ☐ Complete and match all attachment references for the parenting schedule.
- ☐ Check whether Christmas Eve and Christmas Day are duplicated in the holiday schedule.
- ☐ Complete each intended holiday assignment and exchange time.
- ☐ Verify the prior case number, date, child name, and party connection.
- ☐ Clarify the year or date reference for the text-message exhibit.
- ☐ Check whether unnecessary financial account information should be redacted from public copies.
- ☐ Match each property exhibit to the correct property description and exhibit number.
- ☐ Verify the property address, parcel information, and exhibit labels across the packet.
- ☐ Check whether all identifying information in the school exhibit is needed in a public copy.
- ☐ Confirm that only court-completion fields remain blank and all client fields are complete.

Please note: Pleading Perfect is not a law firm, and our team members are not attorneys. This review is not legal advice. We looked only for apparent formatting, spelling, grammar, and consistency issues in the documents. We did not evaluate the legal claims, defenses, strategy, or whether the documents state or rely on the correct legal theories. Questions about legal rights, legal deadlines, legal procedures, or the legal effect of any document should be directed to a licensed attorney.